SIGNIFICANCE OF NATCOM 2016 - THEME

Make in India has enthused the entire manufacturing sector, the country and the world. Make in India is a campaign launched about 18 months back by Govt. of India to re-energise the manufacturing sector with innovative multi pronged campaign to facilitate investments, foster innovations, enhance skill development, protect intellectual property & build best in class manufacturing Infrastructure. Quantitatively the Make in India campaign envisages the manufacturing sector to contribute 25% of GDP by 2022 from current 17% and creation of 100 million jobs.

It also aims at integrating Indian goods in global value class. It is estimated that 10-12 million people will enter the workforce each year for the next two decades.

With a positive attitude towards Indian economy on account of Liberalising FDI Policies in different sectors, ease of doing business, easy and speedy approval for projects have made India as an attractive investment destination. Make in India concept has added new dimensions for Foreign Investors and has already plans to set up manufacturing bases in India.

Make in India concept will bring new trend in supply chain function of organizations. Instead of conventional plant level production planning, it is better to focus on demand driven model, which is more customer centric. This will also result in saving of Inventory carrying cost for the company. Supply chain professionals have to look at different ways to reduce cost and to create more efficient value chain so that they can remain globally competitive.

The Indian manufacturing industry has to gear-up to overcome the critical challenges faced in improving these Supply Chains specially infrastructure expansion and strengthening of the nation's freight Cargo transportation network to accommodate the projected increase in traffic.

As supply chain network has become more complex, there is greater need for improved supply chain technology solutions. Make in India is a mission in the national interest with an objective to succeed, will have manufacturing thrust and a focus on innovation and design to boost productivity.

Considering the above opportunities and challenges which has high appreciation from all sectors, need arises from the SCM professionals to look forward and ahead to meet the Make in India, a value added campaign in the next decade.
