National President, Ph. 9845037950

It gives me immense pleasure to address our ever growing professional fraternity. Through this message, our institute stands on the strong foundation laid by our visionary leaders committed members, dedicated National Councilors and enthusiastic students.

Together we have nurtured our beloved organization that represents Excellency in the field of Materials Management/Supply Chain.

Today's rapidly changing global environment, supply chain are no longer limited to procurement and logistics alone. They have become strategic driver of organizational success, enhancing competition and sustainable development.

Let us work together with unity of purpose, mutual respect and shared vision. The strength of institute like us is collective efforts rather than individual achievement with dedication, transparency and forward looking leadership.

I am confident that we will scale new heights and contribute meaningfully to the National Supply Chain Eco-system.
